Subject: Black students demand institutional changes

1. We, the Black Student Union and the Associated Students Student Advocate General, believe that the University of California, Santa Barbara must create and implement plans to recruit and retain Black students, staff, and faculty.
2. In 1968 there were about .04% Black students when they decided to take over North Hall and demanded the creation of the Black Studies Department and the Center for Black Studies Research along with other demands. 45 years later, there are only at 3.1% Black students. Clearly, the abysmal rate of growth, or lack thereof, is an urgent call to action for the institution.
3. These demands are coming from the Black Student Union and the Associated Students Office of the Student Advocate at UC Santa Barbara, whose views are embodied by the following quotes:

“The University of California Santa Barbara has to be called to demonstrate its so-called commitment to diversity and inclusion of all underrepresented students and particularly Black students. The time has come for a serious shift in priorities through the creation and implementation of concrete plans outlined in our demands to increase the number of Black students, staff, and faculty with the ‘fierce urgency of now.’”
Yoel Haile, ASUCSB, Student Advocate General

“The demands that we are making did not begin with us. These demands are inequality issues, amongst other battles that have been fought for constantly by black students. Now is a better time than any for the university to create sustainable systems of recruitment for Black students. This is a job that cannot be done by students alone. This is why we are requesting institutional support”
Taisonya Tidwell, Co-Chair Black Student Union

“It’s time that the Black student moves from being an ornament in highly decorated diversity university brochures to being actually considered as a substantial embodiment of UCSB scholarship by the administration.”
George Jefferson, Co-Chair Black Student Union
The Chancellor has been open to meeting with us and hearing us out, and we very much look forward to the next concrete steps he will take to address our demands.

Press Advisory and Release

The Associated Students of UC Santa Barbara Student Advocate General and the UCSB Black Student Union strongly put forth the following grievances to UC Santa Barbara Chancellor Henry T. Yang.

Given the hostile racial climate throughout the UC system and a multitude of issues adversely affecting Black students here at UCSB, we as concerned leaders of the campus community have created this list of demands out of true concern for health of current and future Black students here at UCSB. It is our belief that Chancellor Henry T. Yang must be called to action and held accountable in addressing the structural deficiencies and lack of institutional support for Black students on this campus.

The structural changes we want to be addressed are as follows:

1. We demand that the “Enhanced African American Recruitment Strategies” Plan drafted by admissions be implemented in its entirety with full funding from the Chancellor’s office. We maintain that none of the funding that is necessary to address our demands comes from the Student Affairs Division and that Student Affairs rightly manage the issues with new funding from the Chancellor’s office. The priority shift we are demanding must be on the institutional and structural level. There is no will power and concerted effort being put forth to recruit and retain Black students by the University. We are cognizant of the University’s strong efforts to reach a system wide goal of 10% for out-of-state students and particularly international students, and 25% for Chican@/Latin@ students. While we applaud the University for striving to reach these goals, we see no such effort and energy being put forth to recruit and retain Black students on this campus.

2. We demand an aggressive recruitment of Black faculty in disciplines and programs outside of the Black Studies Department as well as within the Black Studies Department. Hold the deans in each college accountable for the recruitment of Black faculty but also provide incentives for activities that promote retention of Black faculty as well as their recruitment. There is an inadequate number of Black staff and faculty on campus. This is particularly relevant in the retention of Black students because the overall campus climate is racially hostile to Black students, and the presence of the current Black staff and faculty has been imperative in the retention of those of us who are still here.

3. We demand the hiring of two full-time Black psychologists at UCSB. We maintain that the funding for this (which includes recruitment expenses) not come from Student Affairs Division for the reasons stated above. Currently, there is a critical need as we only have one Black Psychologist on campus. We as Black students need psychologists who share similar experiences in terms of racial discrimination and in dealing with the racially hostile campus climate at this University.

4. We demand North Hall be re-named Malcolm X Hall in honor and respect for the Black students and countless student and staff allies who occupied North Hall and symbolically renamed it Malcolm X Hall in 1968. Because of this student activism, the Black Studies Department and the Center for Black Studies Research was created at UCSB. We believe renaming North Hall will memorialize the history and contributions of Black students on this campus.

5. We demand a permanent, student activism-centered display inside of North Hall memorializing the history of the 1968 student takeover of North Hall, Currently a plaque has been placed outside of the inner side of the building, with the drawback that the history of UCSB, its students and its Black Students current and past is not properly memorialized. A student simply can enter and leave the hall without knowing the legacy of the building and its role in changing the curriculum and climate of UCSB. Inclusion of the memorial helps to highlight the role that Black, Chican@, and White students played in making the University’s boastful legacy of diversity a partial reality.

6. We demand access to the contact information (such as email addresses) of all self-identified Black incoming first year and transfer students to be available through student affairs mediums such as EOP or OSL so that we can conduct our own familial and individual-centered models of outreach. We are aware that retention of Black students is done in large part by current student leaders and their organized efforts. That being said, we need to be able to extend resources to our community more systematically and rigorously to increase the Black student presence and well being on this campus.

7. We demand access to Black Alumni through the implementation of a program that allows Black alumni to give directly to retention and scholarship efforts of Black students through both monetary and social networks. We want to ensure these additions are localized in the Black community so as to maintain and sustain our community.

8. We demand that all of these be implemented within the next 3-6 months.

BSU is sending out this press release, because we want to inform the UCSB student body of the steps we are taking to address issues of marginalization and systemic discrimination that we as Black students face at the university. We want the entire student body to know what we are doing to promote a more inclusive and better-resourced campus for the underserved Black students, staff and faculty. Moreover, we believe that increasing the presence and well-being of Black students on this campus will aid the entire student body as knowledge of diverse, and especially Black, peoples is critical to the education of all 21st century UCSB students.

Ours is a call for support from the rest of the University to assist us with this project. As a follow-up to this press release, we invite all supportive members of the UCSB community to join us in a follow-up meeting to these demands with the Black Student Union on Tuesday April 2nd at 5pm in the UCEN Flying A room.
